

Access to this building is restricted

Only faculty, staff and students who have been approved to resume on-campus work or research through the university's reactivation process are allowed to access the building at this time.

Those approved to be on university premises must complete the Daily Check-in prior to their arrival each day.